Volunteers for after school clubs

If any parents has a particular skill or passion they would like to share with children in the form of an after school club then please let us know. We are always looking for ways to give our children more experiences.

New School

At long last we are getting somewhere I am pleased to say. The small amendments to the building are waiting to be approved by the planning committee but this is a formality as the building of the school itself has already been approved.

Some minor works will begin very soon with the first being next week when a small number of trees will be removed to provide access points. In April the electricity board will be ensuring that the site has a new electricity supply along with drainage and water points from the relevant companies. BT will also be along to put in the phone lines which the contractor will use on a temporary basis.

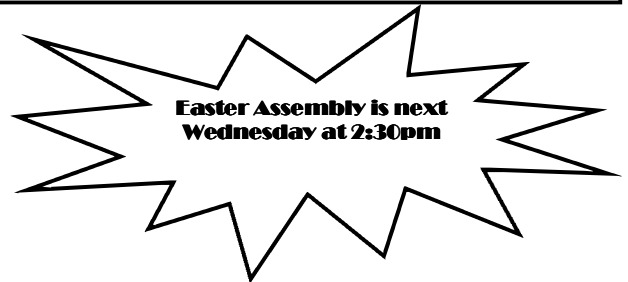

The main work will begin in June with a small number of initial works being started in May. The company building the school (Surgo) still believes that it will take a year to build. This means that the transition from this building to the new will take place in June 2011. This is very good as we shall get all the teething problems out of the way before we have a fantastic start in September 2011.

Easter Assembly

Don't forget our Easter assembly is next Wednesday at 2:30pm followed by a cake staff (please donate cakes to the Friends of Jesmond Road). The assembly will be very informal with most children doing a little something in it.

Book Club

There will be no book club next week book club will resume after the Easter break.

Easter Assembly is next
 Wednesday at 2:30pm
