New School

As you can see, a bit of action is taking place but the real building work won't start until June. This means that we will be definitely be in our new building for September 2011, but I have a little bit of hope that we will be able to make the move in the last part of the summer term, so we get all the teething problems out of the way before September!

Easter Assembly

We are always grateful and pleased to see many parents coming to our open assemblies such as the one we had just before Easter. Those of you who came may recall that we really struggled to hear the children read their poems over the noise made by some of the very young children and babies present.

I really do not want to prevent young children and babies coming to these events as I know that you would find it very difficult to find childcare. However, in future I will need to ask you to take your children out of the hall if they begin to make noises that prevent children from being heard. If everyone can respect this then I won't have to make the really hard decision to stop them from coming in the first place. I really would appreciate your support on this one. I do know there could be a few events happening this term (invites later!) and would like to think we could help all the children at Jesmond Road to give their best. Thanks
